

POTSDAM PROFILE

History

The State University of New York at Potsdam is one of 64 units of The State University of New York and one of 13 SUNY arts and sciences colleges. Its origin was the St. Lawrence Academy, founded in 1816 by early settlers of the region. It continued as Potsdam Normal School in 1867, as Potsdam State Teachers College in 1942, and became part of the largest university system in the United States, The State University of New York, in 1948. Throughout its distinguished history the institution has served the people of the North Country and of New York State.

Mission

The State University of New York at Potsdam prepares students to act as engaged global citizens and to lead lives enriched by critical thought, creativity, and discovery. As an inclusive scholarly community rooted in our historic role in providing exemplary teacher and music education and our leadership in the fine and performing arts, we are committed to the liberal arts and sciences as an academic foundation for all students. With an abiding sense of responsibility to our region and to the world beyond, SUNY Potsdam fosters an appreciation of and respect for the variety of human experience.

Locale

The College is located in New York's picturesque North Country, an area that ranges from scenic tranquility to cultural and recreational activities.

To the southeast, the Adirondack Mountains offer hiking, relaxing beside quiet streams, fishing or swimming in the many lakes. In winter, skiing the beautiful trails of Whiteface Mountain in Lake Placid (scene of the 1980 Winter Olympics) or Big Tupper, an hour from the campus, is a popular pastime.

The world-renowned Thousand Islands region is also an hour's drive away. There, visitors can take a boat tour, fish, swim or visit one of the many quaint little shops.

For those who prefer the cultural atmosphere of large cities, Ottawa and Montréal are 70 and 80 miles away, respectively. While in Ottawa, students can visit the National Art Gallery or Museum of Natural History; attend a concert or theatrical production at the National Arts Center; tour the Houses of Parliament and witness the changing of the guard in the summer.

Montréal provides the opportunity to visit a completely different culture as the most bilingual (French-English) metropolis on the North American continent. While in Montréal, you can stroll the underground pedestrian network which connects business, boutiques, hotels, restaurants, museums and many other city attractions. Additionally, there are over 200 professional theatre companies, more than a dozen professional musical ensembles, 32 museums, 28 exhibition centers and the largest scientific museum complex in Canada.

People

While location is a definite plus for SUNY Potsdam, the people who make up the College community are its greatest asset. The students, faculty and staff make us what we are – a very special place.

Our enrollment is approximately 4,300 – including about 3,750 undergraduate and 550 graduate students. Our students are an interesting and diversified group. They come to us from all over the United States with a small number from foreign countries. Students come from farms, small towns, the suburbs and large cities. They are traditional students (those who come to us straight from high school) and non-traditional (those who enroll after raising a family, serving in the military or deciding to switch careers).

Faculty members are also of many different backgrounds and age groups. They hold degrees from such prestigious universities as Harvard, Stanford and Yale. They are published authors, well-known researchers, accomplished artists and musicians. Like their students, they are a friendly, caring group – always ready to discuss a problem or assist with a project. Dedicated to teaching, they are not just active in the classroom, but in every facet of the campus community. Many of our students say they learn as much through friendship and interaction with their professors as they do in classroom studies.

The Potsdam Pledge

Being more than a collection of individuals, SUNY Potsdam is a community dedicated to the pursuit of common goals. While these goals can be elusive and controversial, the community described in this document reminds us not only of what we are seeking to become but of all that we share in common.

Public Service and Outreach

Faculty, staff and students have always taken an active role in public service activities through the different schools and departments. The College has long served as a major center for the arts in the North Country through its extensive musical programs performed by the students and faculty of The Crane School of Music, the Roland Gibson Art Gallery and dance and theater productions.

The College has a diverse array of educational services throughout the North Country including the Fort Drum Consortium, the St. Lawrence Valley Teachers' Learning Center, and was a Founding Partner in the Jefferson Community College Higher Education Center. The Center houses a number of public and private institutions that provide access to bachelors, masters and professional certificates by offering classes, degrees and integrated academic support services for residents in the greater Watertown/Ft. Drum area of northern New York. Additionally, the College offers a special educational service to migrant farm workers and their families through the North Country Tutorial Outreach Program.

The College sponsors many activities that serve the residents and communities of the North Country. The Center for Lifelong Education and Recreation (CLEAR) coordinates conferences, workshops, summer camps, non-credit programs, and trainings both on and off-campus. These include an annual "Managing Local Government Conference," which provides education for community officials from all over the region, the NY State Teacher Certification Exams, the Science Olympiad for local high school students, in conjunction with College science departments. CLEAR sponsors noncredit courses in adult fitness, recreation, children and youth activities, and professional development year-round, and coordinates summer residential and day camps for children and youth, such as Crane Youth Music, an International Summer Basketball Camp, and swim camps. CLEAR also assists SOAR, which offers peer learning opportunities for area residents of retirement age, such as courses on computers, contract bridge, agriculture, North Country, science, religion, and the arts.

The Potsdam Institute for Applied Research (PIAR) is a university-based research institute which provides high quality, cost effective data collection, evaluation, survey, reporting and other research services to North Country communities, schools, and agencies.

The Office of the Provost coordinates the T. Urling and Mabel Walker Research Fellowship Program, a competitive funding program that supports research on critical issues confronting North Country communities, with the objective of making recommendations for their solutions, by faculty from the region's 11 institutions of higher education.
