Wilderness Education Concentration
within MSEd Curriculum and Instruction

The Wilderness Education concentration is designed for professionals that have experience or aspire to gain employment in wilderness education for higher education institutions, K-12 and private school settings.

“Participating in the Wilderness Education program at SUNY Potsdam impacted me personally and professionally. I grew as a person, developed confidence in my knowledge of the outdoors, but most importantly combined my passion with the opportunity to learn how to teach others about it! I gained experience in working with various age groups, developing and executing lessons and activities, and watching my lessons translate into hands on experiences for participants.”

-Evan Price ’14
