Emma Starace – Substitute
Seyri Reyes – Alternate Asst.
Dominique Cannizzaro – Alternate Asst.
Judy Smith - Cook’s Assistant

HAPPY BIRTHDAY:
Dr. Seuss – March 2nd

Cauliflower Muffins:
Shred one head of cauliflower in a food processor and then fry with a little olive or coconut oil for about 7 minutes (until slightly softened). Mix with 2 eggs, lightly whisked; 1/2 cup almond meal; 1/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese; and 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt. Place mixture into greased muffin tins. Bake at 400°F for 30-35 minutes or until the tops are browned and crispy. Brandt says: "Cauliflower is a versatile vegetable that can be used in all kinds of ways for low-carb baking and cooking. If your kids like bread and biscuits (and are not allergic to nuts), these muffins provide a healthier alternative. You could also add chives, rosemary, bacon bits or other flavorings of your choice." Barbara Brandt, Cookbook Author

UPCOMING DATES:
March 12 – Daylight Saving Time Begins
March 17 – Happy St. Patrick’s Day
