This background will take graduating students and alumni into the new millennium better prepared to face the challenges of the future.

THE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM AT SUNY COLLEGE AT POTSDAM :

• The Internship Program at SUNY Potsdam is one component of an intensive career planning process available to students. This program is designed to integrate students, participating employers and the College into a partnership providing employers with valuable workers while also providing the student with career-related work experience. This career-related experience will enhance the intern's educational goals, while contributing to your organization's mission. This work experience may be part-time or full-time, paid or unpaid and may consist of special activities or be part of a regular job. Although the intern is expected to make a valued contribution to the workplace, learning must be the central focus of all internships.

• Additionally, the intern should not be looked upon as an expert in the field. It is important to remember that although an intern will bring special skills and fresh ideas to your organization, he/she is essentially at your organization to learn and put to use the knowledge and guidance he/she obtained in the classroom. Therefore, although all employees are required to complete mundane tasks, these tasks should be limited to only twenty percent of the intern's time. If your organization can meet it's needs while contributing to the success of the intern's learning objectives, then the internship placement will be a perfect match.
INTERNSHIP TERMINOLOGY:

- Site Supervisor: As the Site Supervisor, you will be immediately responsible for the intern and his/her performance. You will be asked to complete an evaluation of the intern's performance and progress throughout the internship.
- Faculty Sponsor: The faculty member overseeing the intern. The faculty sponsor awards a grade and credit for the completed internship based on the student's performance and completion of assignments.
- Internship Coordinator: The staff member in charge of organizing and coordinating all internships. The student will initiate the internship process with this person. The coordinator will guide the student through the process from start to finish.
- Internship Site: The organization providing the internship opportunity.

EXPECTED RESPONSIBILITIES:

The Site Supervisor will:

- Sign and complete the employer portion of the Internship Learning Agreement Form prior to the intern beginning the internship experience;
- Introduce the intern to the organization and fellow employees, inform him/her of any safety and ‘Right to Know’ issues to teach the intern about the career field and provide training when needed;
- Be directly responsible for the intern during the internship;
- Encourage professionalism by assisting the intern in developing human relations skills; decision-making abilities and managing office politics;
- Provide opportunities for increasing responsibility; Keep the intern busy and directed towards his/her learning objectives;
- Develop connections between the intern’s work and departmental goals;
- Maintain an open channel of communication with regular meetings;
- Complete a written final evaluation and mid-term evaluation. (The Internship Coordinator will send the final Evaluation Instructions directly to the employer.)

The intern will:

- Attend an orientation session with the Internship Coordinator from the Internship Program Office;
- Choose a faculty sponsor within the department the intern wishes to receive academic credit;
- Research three to five potential internship placement sites and prepare a resume and cover letter with the assistance of the Internship Program Staff or Internship Coordinator;
• Apply for an internship placement, complete interviews and secure an internship placement;
• Complete the Internship Learning Agreement Form, in coordination with the Site Supervisor, Faculty Sponsor and Internship Coordinator, and have each party sign the form;
• Act in a professional and appropriate manner in accordance with the rules and regulations of your organization.

The Internship Coordinator will:
• Act as primary liaison between the organization and SUNY Potsdam;
• Establish, visit and develop new internship sites;
• Distribute all internship opportunities the Internship Program Office receives to appropriate departments;
• Provide the intern with the assistance they will need to complete an internship. This includes help in researching an organization, preparing a resume and cover letter and providing effective interviewing and job search techniques;
• Keep a database of all internship sites for student and alumni use;
• Keep a file on all students completing an internship;
• Collect, record and distribute mid-term evaluation and written final evaluation forms of the intern. A copy of evaluation forms will be sent to the Faculty Sponsor;
• Evaluate the program on a bi-annual basis. Program results will be distributed upon request.

The Faculty Sponsor will:
• Work with the intern throughout the duration of the internship;
• Upon request, meet with the site supervisor to discuss internship placements;
• Assist the intern in creating learning objectives that must be met while interning at a selected site. These objectives will be stated in the Internship Learning Agreement Form which the faculty sponsor will approve;
• Award credit and a final grade based on the interns completion of assignments;
• Keep in contact with the intern throughout the duration of the internship, in order to appraise his/her progress.

THE INTERNSHIP LEARNING AGREEMENT:

• The Internship Learning Agreement Form outlines the work and learning objectives of the internship, and must be completed and approved prior to the intern beginning the internship. The Internship Learning Agreement Form is a legal binding contract between the student, the work-site organization and the College. It clarifies the roles and responsibilities of all three parties involved.
To ensure that all three parties involved in the internship are legally aware of their rights and responsibilities, this legal agreement should be drafted and accepted by your organization, the student intern and the College.

The Internship Learning Agreement Form details the following factors:

- Content Of The Job - What are the job duties and responsibilities?
- Training - What type of training will the student receive?
- Compensation - Will the intern be compensated by an hourly wage or a stipend (if at all)?
- Time - How much time will the student be working? The national standard states that for each academic credit requested, a minimum of 40 hours at the internship site is required. For example: 120 hrs. = 3 credits = 8 hrs. per week.
- Site Supervision - How the intern will be supervised; To whom the intern will report and how often.
- Academic Component - The scope is negotiated between the faculty sponsor and the intern. The intern must complete the academic component in order to receive academic credit. The scope of the component is dependent upon the number of credit hours requested and the completion of the stated learning objectives and should complement the intern’s job description.
- Grading - Whether the internship is graded numerically, satisfactory or unsatisfactory will be determined by the faculty sponsor prior to the beginning of the internship.
- Credit - Is approved and granted by the faculty sponsor and it is the faculty sponsor’s decision whether to grant credit, and if so, how much.
- Evaluation - The student will be evaluated by their site supervisor during the internship experience. A written final evaluation form will be distributed to the site supervisor once an internship has been secured. Evaluations will be used by the faculty sponsor when granting the student a final grade.

PROCEDURES:

The following outline of procedures is a guideline you may follow when first implementing an internship program within your organization. The steps include:

Obtaining Support:

- The first step you should take is to secure support from your co-workers, supervisors and/or managers regarding an internship program. If there is support and cohesiveness amongst professionals from the inception of the program, the program will be more successful, efficient and well-organized.
Documenting Your Program:

- When you have gained support from other professionals within your organization, you should document the goals and objectives for the internship program. This will ensure that the roles and expectations of all parties involved in the internship placement are understood.

Goals and Objectives:

When drafting a list of expectations, take into consideration the following:

- Activities you need to accomplish before staffing an intern
- Activities/roles of the intern
- Roles of the supervisor
- Payment to intern
- Workplace requirements
- Application requirements
- Marketing and outreach plans to attract potential intern
- Evaluation methods

Complete the Internship Learning Agreement Form with the Intern

- In order to maintain a consistent approach with the intern, and to ensure the intern achieves his/her goals and objectives for the internship placement, SUNY Potsdam has mandated the intern complete an Internship Learning Agreement prior to beginning an internship.

Selecting an Intern

Work-Site Responsibilities

- Once you have gained support from your co-workers, created roles and objectives for the intern and have discussed the roles and responsibilities of those acting as site supervisors, you can begin the process of seeking an intern. It is important to remember that when looking for an intern, you are essentially looking for a potential employee. Therefore, the process of screening and hiring an intern is as important as hiring a full time professional employee. If the career goals, interests and work ethic of the intern closely match your organizations, the internship is likely to be a good match. If your organization can provide an environment conducive to the intern’s educational goals, while at the same time make a positive contribution to your organization, then an intern will be of good use to you. Additionally, your organization is obliged to abide by all discrimination laws when sponsoring an intern. It is illegal to discriminate in an internship situation because of the intern’s race, color, religion, nationality or disability. It is also required that the employer provide adequate accommodations in the workplace for an intern with a disability.

Internship Coordinator’s Responsibility

- SUNY Potsdam’s Internship Coordinator is available to discuss your internship placement. The Internship Coordinator will provide you with an Internship Request Form which can be completed and sent back to the Internship Coordinator. This form will provide you with an opportunity to present a description of the internship position and other necessary information regarding the internship placement. Your internship opportunity will be displayed in the Internship Program Office, on the campus-wide public server available for student use and distributed to appropriate departments.

Orienting The Intern To Your Organization

- Once you have accepted an intern, he/she will report to your organization at a pre-determined time. There are many ways your professional organization can go about welcoming your intern. Presented below are a few suggestions.
  - Pre-Arrival -Before the intern arrives at your organization, you may want to send him/her a packet of information describing your organization and its mission. A description of what the intern’s responsibilities will be while at your organization should be included. If your intern will be moving to a different area, it would be appropriate to send information on housing, public transportation, local shopping areas, etc.

Orientation

Once the intern arrives at your organization, it’s a good idea to acclimate him/her to their new environment. Some suggestions include:

- Welcome the intern as you would a professional employee;
- Explain your organization’s mission and goals and policies;
- Outline the policies, procedures and expectations of the intern;
- Explain the potential risks that may occur at the workplace setting (if any);
- Introduce the intern to fellow employees and instruct him/her on office equipment;
- Explain the dress code, attendance policy and sick/holiday leave;
- Show the intern the cafeteria/washroom/ break room, etc.
- Discuss whom the intern reports to in the absence of his/her supervisor;
- Detail the safety regulations and procedures of your organization;
- Describe any regulations that must be adhered to when working with clients.
Supervising The Intern

• As the Site Supervisor, part of your responsibility will be to bridge the professional workplace with the traditional form of classroom learning, while acting as his/her coach and mentor.

Presented below are a few suggestions for supervising the intern:

• Explain your work expectations of the intern, and discuss the procedures you will follow for terminating the intern if the situation should arise;
• Maintain an open channel of communication with the intern;
• Schedule regular meetings with the intern to appraise his/her progress and to address any concerns either you or the intern has;
• Design productive and progressive work assignments for the intern.
• Invite the intern to accompany you to professional meetings, seminars and conferences to learn more about your professional position;
• Be open and receptive to the intern’s ideas and suggestions;
• Encourage the intern to attend staff meetings.

Evaluating The Intern

• It will be important to evaluate your intern throughout the duration of the internship experience. The Internship Coordinator will send a mid-term evaluation and final evaluation form in an email for the site supervisor to complete regarding his/her progress. Both evaluation forms will be forwarded to the student intern’s faculty sponsor, who will use them when determining the intern’s final grade.

Evaluating The Internship Program At Your Organization

• Professionals in your organization will want to see evidence that the Internship Program is effective and worthwhile. If an annual evaluation is completed, your organization is more likely to catch any pitfalls along the way and reinforce the positive contributions of the program.
