The Bridges program underwent a transition during the 2023-2024 academic year. In February 2024, the oversight began overseeing the program, dividing it into three areas based on students' academic status. These divisions included students on academic probation, students in acceptable standing or at potential risk, and students in high-achieving status.

Within these three sections, a direct contact person connected with their students and worked with them academically to ensure their success throughout their academic journey. At the start of Fall 2023, the program was overseen by the designated Bridges program advisor, who had since departed. During the interim, the director of the Student Success Center managed the program until I was tasked with overseeing it in February 2024 as part of a new college initiative.

2A. Bridges students are required to have monthly one-on-one meetings with their Bridges advisor. During these appointments, the advisor refers students to additional support programs, such as CSTEP, TRiO, the Center for Diversity, the Student Health Center, and the Student Counseling Center, as appropriate. Students are evaluated for eligibility and encouraged to engage with the community and other campus departments to maximize their support and involvement. This target was met.

In Spring 2024, a total of 28 Bridges students were divided into three groups for tailored support. Students on academic probation met weekly with the Academic Mentoring Program Coordinator for guidance and to improve GPAs. Those in the median range worked with the new Program Director to meet contact hours and stay on track. High-achieving students had periodic meetings to maintain engagement within the program.

End of Spring 2024 results:

- Academic Probation Group:
  - o 5 out of 6 students were academically dismissed.
- Median Range Group:
  - o 5 out of 14 students fell under academic probation.
  - o 1 out of 14 students were academically dismissed.
  - 8 out of 14 students remained on acceptable standing.

- High-Achieving Group:
  - o 2 out of 8 students were placed in academic warning.
  - o 6 out of 8 students remained on acceptable standing.

Target: Target was met.

Challenge: Since students met with three different advisors during their first academic year, establishing consistent and strong relationships was challenging, leading to instability in their academic performance. First year students, particularly those at risk, need reliable connections with advisors who can offer continuous academic guidance and support.

Success: Despite working with three different advisors, the program successfully provided specialized one-on-one support tailored to each student's needs while managing advisor caseloads. This approach ensured that every student had at least one meaningful meeting within the Bridges program, strengthening their academic foundation. Though the transition was challenging, it allowed advisors to offer essential support to all students.

2B. A master Excel spreadsheet was created at the beginning of the academic year to track student eligibility for support programs.

2022 – 2023

TRIO:

CSTEP:

CSTEP

Target: 5% increase was not met.

In Spring 2024 our primary focus was to track students' academic progress through regular meetings. Advisors, at their discretion, encouraged their students to apply for additional support programs like TRiO and CSTEP based on their eligibility.

2C. Tutoring recommendations and referrals are strongly encouraged for all students, especially those eligible for TRiO, who are advised to benefit from one-one tutoring. Students who are facing difficulties in subjects like writing and math are encouraged to utilize on-campus resources such as the Writers Block and the Math Lab. Additionally, students are encouraged to use the "Raise a Hand" feature on Starfish to submit a request for tutoring assistance.
