Starting a Successful Job Search

1. Use your career center: utilize resources, attend workshops & programs, and meet with a counselor.
2. Create your brand: resume should target the job.
3. Ask yourself, “Where am I now, where do I want to be one year from now?”
4. Ask yourself, “When am I at my best?”
5. Stay focused and keep it manageable: make job-searching fun, volunteer, stay positive, etc.

Job Search Traps

1. You don’t have a goal. You don’t have to have a specific set goal. Just think of what you might like to do and move forward.
2. Your major isn’t related to any career. Your major doesn’t have to be exactly related to your career. Use the skills you have developed.
3. You’re totally overwhelmed. There is no need to read every website. Focus on key resources.
4. You don’t have time. You have to make time to job search. Break it into small tasks.
5. There are no jobs out there. Searching for a job can be scary, move forward as best you can. Get help from Career Planning.

It doesn’t matter how or where you start – just start from where you are.

How to Prepare for Career Fairs

Do your research: Review a copy of the organizations attending. See if any are a match with your skills.

Identify your target: Rank organizations in terms of your interests. Make a list of which to visit first.

Prepare a short “commercial”: Let the employer know something about you, your skills and background. Avoid starting your conversation by asking what jobs they have for you. Also avoid saying you’ll take anything.

During the fair make sure you are focused, professional and polite, use your time well, and ask the recruiter how to follow up.

Career Fair Networking Tips!

- Plan your approach
- Anticipate being evaluated
- Dress appropriately
- Ask questions
- Take notes
- Follow up with the employers you met
HOW GOOD ARE YOUR INTERVIEWING SKILLS?

Consider these tips for an excellent presentation

First Impressions
Appearance is professional; wearing business suit. You greet and shake hands with interviewer firmly. Conversation is enthusiastic and engaging.

Interview Content
