TECH COACH TAKEAWAYS

Abstract: At this presentation, Markie will be sharing some of her experiences and takeaways from her previous life as a tech coach in the local K-12 public schools and compare it to what she's learned since becoming an instructional designer at SUNY Potsdam. Are you familiar with what tech coaches do? If not, that's where we'll start! Contrary to popular belief, tech coaches are teachers and not computer-fixers. Tech coaching is a strange and wide-ranging position that sits at an intersection of teaching, tech support, and administration – working with and translating between each of these groups.
